COMMENCEMENT EVENTS

THE Commencement of 1916 was one of the most enjoyable which we have ever attended. It opened with a reception given by Mr. Thomas Sutton and Mrs. Sutton to the members of the Senior Class. These receptions give several hundred students an event to look back to all their lives.

The evening of June twenty-fourth the Commencement Recital was given. We print the program later.

Dr. William Crawford, of Allegheny College, delivered the Baccalaureate sermon, taking "The Perfect Man" as his theme. President Crawford is a leader of no mean power and his address was helpful.

In the Vespers Services Dr. Crawford took the lead, assisted by Miss Leonard, Miss Parsons, and Miss Hawkins.

On Monday the Portmanteau Theatre Players gave several plays in their inimitable way.

Tuesday evening we had the Alumni Banquet and Dance. Not the least enjoyable part were the stirring toasts given by the members.

Commencement exercises on Wednesday did full justice to the reputation of the School, a most enjoyable affair.

The Commencement Dinner rounded out the year's events.

TEACHERS GONE FROM US

This year Indiana State Normal School parted with ten members of its regular Normal Faculty.

Dr. Alice Lili Loewenstein, from the Department of Modern Languages, is teaching in St. Lawrence University, in New York.

Mr. Colcord, from the Department of Education, is head of the Training Department in the McKeesport High School.

Miss Anna Hunt is teaching English in a high school in Erie, Penna.

Miss Alma Noble has a year's leave of absence, which she is spending at her home.

Miss Edna Winters is teaching Mathematics in a high school in Buffalo, New York.

Mr. Perry is studying at Harvard.

Miss Mattie Durrell Bodine is teaching Latin in the high school in Mt. Vernon, New York.

Miss Stuchul, who is in Honolulu, writes that she is enjoying the wonderful climate, the delightful ocean breezes, the magnificent scenery, and the fresh fruits and beautiful flowers. She is only a few minutes' drive from the shore and finds the climate very healthful.

It may be interesting to learn something about three teachers, former members of our Faculty.

Miss Goodspeed, formerly teacher of Domestic Science here, will teach at Teachers' College, New York, this year.

Miss Orr, a graduate of Indiana, and a member of the Faculty for some time, has received a degree from Columbia University, and has gone to Winona, Indiana, as head critic teacher of the intermediate grades.

Miss Moore, a former critic teacher in the Model School, and, for the past three years a critic teacher in a New York Normal, has recently resigned her position, and will do post-graduate work at Columbia this year.

ALICE A. FINLEY, 1917.

ART NOTES

MISS Mabel R. Brown, '10, and Normal Art, '11, formerly assistant in the Model School, attended the Commencement exercises. Miss Brown is teaching drawing in Wilmerding, and enjoys her work very much.

Elizabeth R. Stroble, '13, and Normal Art, '11, spent a day with us, Commencement Week. Miss Stroble was Supervisor of Drawing at New Kensington for two years, resigning her position to take up a course at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mary Himler, '12, and Normal Art, '11, spent two days with us last week. Miss Himler is teaching in Latrobe, Pa.

Florence Reitz, Supervisors' Music Course and Special Art, '12, who has been Supervisor of Music and Drawing at Kennett Square, Pa., for the last three years, has been elected to a similar position in the Indiana schools, where she began her work this week. Miss Reitz speaks enthusiastically of the grade teachers and their fine spirit.

Grace Fleck, Normal Art, '11, formerly Supervisor of Music and Drawing, has been teaching departmental work in the Johnstown schools, and returned to her work there last week.

Alpha Weamer, Normal Art, '15, sailed for Porto Rico, where she has been appointed by the government to teach in the public schools.

Helen Carr, Normal Art, '15, taught in Porto Rico last year, and has been reappointed to the same position this year.

The many friends of Opal Alabran, of Ridgeway, Pa., a graduate of Normal Art last year, will be glad to learn that she is slowly recovering from a complete nervous collapse. She writes in her dear, delightful way of her appreciation of the School and its training.

Mrs. James S. Hodil (née Garnet Clark), of Munhall, Pa., writes of her own little home and promises us a visit soon.

Jean Lacock, Normal Art, '12, writes that she is taking higher training at University of Pittsburg.

Mary O. Buterbaugh, Normal Art, '13, is teaching her second year as Supervisor of Drawing and Critic teacher in the training department at Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, W. Va.

Margaret Yarnall, Normal Art, '13, spent a few days as a guest of the School last term. Miss Yarnall is very happy in her chosen work in her home city of Altoona, Pa.

"TWENTY YEARS AFTER"

DEAR ABSENT CLASSMATE:—

Why didn't you come back to Indiana for the reunion? We looked for you on every train that stopped at our beautiful campus—just as the trains did twenty years ago when we were graduating. And there were all the sweet girl graduates and the nice boy graduates, too, so eager to meet their parents and friends, just as we were twenty years ago. But, oh! my! there were so many more of them. Well, there were more than four times as many as in 1896.

As I said before, we looked for you every day. Were you afraid to come back lest you might not know your old classmates? Or were you too far away? Or did you think you would not have a good time? If you positively could not come, it is too bad, for you missed the "best time ever." There were thirty-two actual members, besides "better halves" and "juniors," who helped to swell that number to nearly twice thirty-two. When you consider that three of our class are dead, and about ten live at great distances, I think we had a fine representation.

And really, it is too bad that you did not come, if only to see how young and happy we all looked. We were not "twenty years old"—we called each other by our first names, and, oh, dear me! it did not make any difference if some of us were gray, and some bald, some fat, some thin, and some with eighteen-year-old daughters, we were all of us just back in 1896, graduating all over again.

And dear Aunt Jane—she is the same old darling that she always was, only more so. How glad she was to see us all!

You will find the program of the week elsewhere in this issue, so I will not try to tell you everything. But I must tell you about Sunday evening. After a most delightful "vesper" service outdoors, at Mrs. Thomas Sutton's invitation, we all journeyed down to her hospitable porch and spent the very nicest kind of evening "looking backward" and renewing our youth. On Monday evening we had a class dinner at Mrs. White's. I would like to tell you about the good things we had to eat, but space forbids. However, I must tell you that the principal event of the evening was Miss Leonard's counting the "juniors'" noses—looking forward to the good of the School, she said. Of the members present, the largest number of children which any one could boast was four. Can you beat that number? Is so, write Miss Leonard immediately. As nearly as we could get the data, the Class of 1896 has about sixty "junior" members.

And another thing; if you have changed your address, please notify Miss Leonard, so she can keep the class directory right up-to-date.

I would like to tell you all about the banquet in the magnificent new dining-room, and the dance in the recreation hall, where once we ate our meals; how we wandered around the ambulatory; how we took in all the many changes; how we sighed when we saw how high the shrubbery had grown. Ah, yes, it must be twenty years; like Rip van Winkle, we felt, at looking on all the improvements, that we had just awakened into a new world.

And then, the last day, Commencement Day; and the dinner, and the yells and the songs. I would like to tell you of all these. You surely missed a good time, but I hope not through your own fault.

All too soon it was time to go. Although Miss Leonard had said she did not wish to say good-bye, we all flocked to her rooms. Who could leave Indiana without saying "au revoir" to Aunt Jane? Not a member of '96, that wicked, good old class.

Before I close I must tell you that the "world moves" at Indiana as elsewhere, as the small but ambitious "baggage men" proved. Every boy in Indiana, I believe, who owned a wagon, was on hand to get his share of the business of hauling trunks and suitcases to the station.

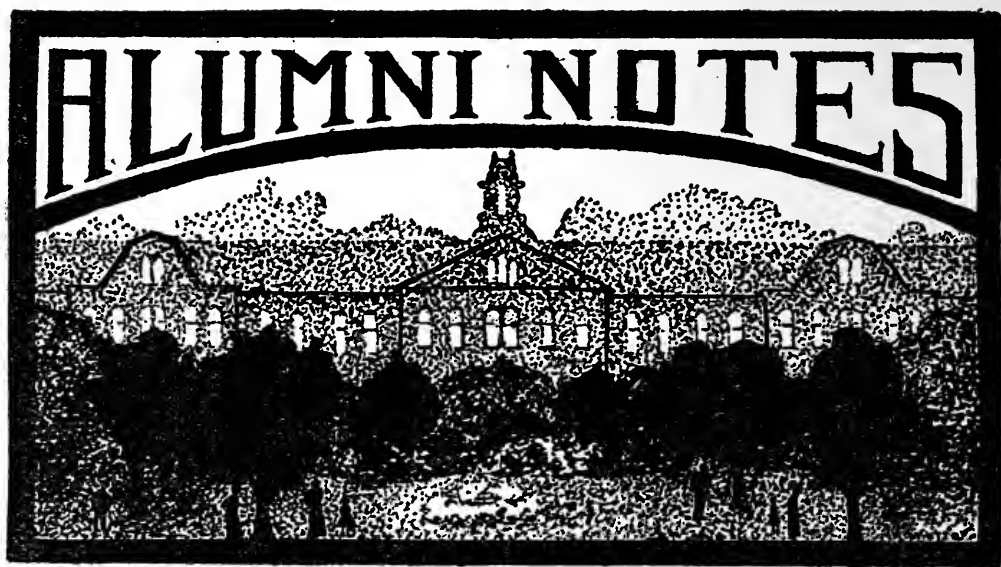

We are sorry that you did not come to the 20th Anniversary of the Class of '96. Be sure to be on hand in 1921.

Hickety, clickety, clickety, clix,

Hurrah for the Class of '96!

Yours for I. S. N. S.,

ANNA E. McDONALD MELVIN.

THE following is from Mrs. Alice M. Carmalt, Secretary of School of Education, University of Pittsburgh, referring to Edna M. Heck, 1902:

"My dear Miss Leonard:—

"At a Faculty meeting of the School of Education, today, Miss Edna M. Heck, on account of her long years of faithful work in classes at the University, carried on while still engaged in teaching, her high professional spirit, and the excellent work that she has done, this Faculty, in recommending her for graduation on June 14, recommended, also, that she be given 'honors.'

"It was thought that Indiana Normal would welcome news of one of its graduates who has achieved so much, consequently the Secretary has been requested to notify you.

"Very sincerely,

"Alice M. Carmalt, Secy."

Miss Meredith Riddle, Class of 1905, daughter of our Mrs. Melvina Riddle, who is and has long been one of our teachers, and Glen Moore Comstock, of Pittsburgh, were married Saturday night, June 24, 1916, in Calvary Protestant Episcopal Church, Pittsburgh, by the rector, the Rev. Dr. James H. McIlvaine.

The bride was given away by her godfather, Judge Jacob Jay Miller, and wore a toilet of silver lace and gauze, and her tulle veil was held about the coiffure with orange blossoms. Howard D. Atkins, of New York, was his cousin's best man, and the ushers were Karl Simmon, of Edgewood Park, and Arnold White, of Sewickley. Mr. and Mrs. Comstock reside at 6631 Ridgeville Street, Squirrel Hill, Pittsburgh, Pa.

A very prettily arranged, although quiet home wedding took place at high noon when Miss Louisa Gettys Allison, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Allison, of Spring Street, and Joseph L. McLane were united in marriage at the home of the bride. The nuptials were solemnized by Rev. W. J. McMichael, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. R. H. McCartney, of Burgettstown, a close friend of the family. The ring ceremony was used. Only immediate relatives of the two families were present, owing to the recent death of the groom's father, Daniel McLane.

The bride's only attendant was a sister, Miss Josephine Allison, while J. T. McLane, of McKeesport, a brother of the groom, served as the best man. The bride was gowned in white embroidered marquisette and Chantilly lace, and carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore pink organdy and maline, and carried pink roses. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Ella Allison, a sister of the bride, sang, "Beloved, It Is Morn," by Florence Aylward. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Mary St. Clair King, of Indiana, Pa.

At the wedding dinner which was served, covers were laid for twenty-seven. The table decorations were pink and white. Following the ceremony, the bride and groom left for an extended trip, which will include the Great Lakes. They will be at home to their friends, in their newly furnished home on Alexander Street, November 1.

Miss Allison was a student of music at Indiana last year, and our teacher of china painting. The Faculty was represented at the wedding by Miss Mary St. Clair King, who played the wedding march, and our Librarian, Miss Minta McLane, a sister of the groom.

The students and friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kinsley will regret to learn of their leaving Indiana. Mr. Kinsley was for several years at the head of our Business Department, and last year was the Registrar of the School. He has received an attractive offer from Detroit, Mich., and he and his family left the first of October to begin his work in that city. They have a host of friends here who will miss them greatly, and their best wishes will go with them to their new field of work.

The following is taken from the Elizabeth, N. Y., Post:

"Among the artist students of Theodore Spiering this summer is Orley See, of the Normal Conservatory of Music, Indiana, Pa. Mr. See has already become quite well known as a violinist, teacher, and a writer on the subject of violin technic. This coming season he will be heard a number of times in concerts and recitals, with Mrs. Orley See at the piano. During the summer Mr. and Mrs. See have occupied a cottage near the Cascades, but will leave Elizabethtown in a few days to resume their work in Indiana, Pa."

Miss Velma Marie Miller, of Center township, Indiana County, became the bride of H. Clair Fleming at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McClain Miller, on September 5, 1916. Miss Myra May Rankin, of Wilkinsburg, was bridesmaid, and C. E. Smith, of Philadelphia, was best man. The bride is a former student of Indiana State Normal School, and her husband, Clair Fleming, is the son of David Fleming. Clair is Assistant Superintendent of the Penn Public Service Company of Indiana, where the couple now reside. His father has been connected with our School for almost a lifetime, and here Clair was born and reared.

Two of the young women connected with our Faculty were married this summer, and the Normal people take this opportunity of extending to them love and congratulations.

Miss Elsie May Wallace, instructor in the Department of Pedagogy, was married to Rev. Miles Henry Krumbine, on the fourteenth of August, 1916, in Baltimore, Md. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Krumbine is in Altoona, where Mr. Krumbine is pastor of the Lutheran Church.

Miss Ada May Best, 1910, Secretary to our Registrar, was married at the home of her mother, Dravosburg, Pa., on Wednesday the second of August, to Mr. Kenneth White Reed. Mr. and Mrs. Reed reside in Cleveland, Ohio, where Mr. Reed holds a very important position.

Professor Robert Clark Wiggins, formerly of Indiana, now of Fredonia, Pa., was married recently to Miss Marian Winona Hover, the daughter of Attorney and Mrs. F. A. Hover, of New Castle, Pa. The bride is a graduate of the Fredonia High School, 1913; Westminster College, 1915; and later took a post-graduate course in oratory and public speaking in the Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. The bride was an instructor in Westminster College, and was one of the most endeared of the faculty. The groom graduated from Indiana State Normal School in 1909, and from Penn State in 1914. For two years he taught in the Taylorsville, Ill., High School. For the past year he has been supervisor and general manager of the Fredonia State Vocational School at Fredonia, Pa., where he will be an instructor this coming year.

Arthur W. Wiggins was married Thursday evening, September 14, to Miss Helen Simpson, 1913, Indiana, Pa.

Grace May Sefton, 1913, and Dr. Louis Henry Mayer, Jr., of Johnstown, Pa., were married at the home of the bride's parents, on Tuesday evening, September 26, by the Rev. D. F. Galbreath, pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh. Dr. and Mrs. Mayer left for the east for an automobile trip, and upon their return took up their residence in Johnstown, Pa.

Hon. John S. Fisher, 1886, for several terms a member of the State Senate, and this year national delegate from this district, is being freely spoken of all over the State as the right man to succeed Governor Brumbaugh. We take the following from the Punxsutawney Spirit:

"Whether Mr. Fisher could be persuaded to accept an office so full of snares and pitfalls and heart-rending perplexities as the governorship of Pennsylvania we do not know, but he has the political acumen, as well as the business ability and the integrity to conduct a successful administration. Besides, he would make a very popular candidate. It is a little early to nominate candidates for governor, but we are for Fisher whether he wants it or not."

Miss Stelle Hasinger, 1904, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hasinger, of Indiana, is now teaching in Ardmore, Montgomery County. In the summer she received the following note from the County Superintendent there:

"Dear Miss Hasinger:—I have felt justified in rating your work as GOOD this year, and hope that with your year of experience in Lower Merion you will be able to prove one of our strongest teachers from the beginning of the term next year.

"Respectfully yours,

Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah H. Lenhart announce the marriage of their daughter, Florence Adda, 1900, to Mr. Claude Jesse Woodward, Wednesday, October 4, 1916, Greensburg, Pa. The newly married couple will be at home to their friends after November 1, Orange, California.

A feature of the event is the fact that the bride had just completed her studies at the Indiana State Normal School and received her diploma at the Commencement exercises held in the Auditorium that morning.

SHOWER FOR A BRIDE-ELECT

A complete shower in every particular was the kitchen shower tendered Miss Edna Marlin by the Misses Douglass at their home on South Ninth Street Monday evening, September 11. The guests numbered thirty, all personal friends of Miss Marlin. Lunch was served on the spacious porch of the Douglass home and under the soft glow of numerous Japanese lanterns. Among the guests were Misses Geraldine Cromley, of Punxsutawney, and Anna Wood, of Philadelphia. Miss Marlin's wedding to Harry Wilson, Jr., will be an event of this fall.

ALUMNI BANQUET

Lowering skies did not affect the brightness of the Auditorium when the Commencement exercises of the graduating class 1916, of the State Normal School of Pennsylvania, were held. Every seat in the spacious hall was taken and the greatest interest was displayed in the various efforts of those who appeared in their part on the program.

Never in the history of the Alumni Association of the Indiana Normal School has there been such a gathering of the former graduates and friends of the School as was evidenced at the Alumni banquet and dance this year. Fully eight hundred persons were gathered about the tables, and the spirit of the reunion classes, coupled with the exuberance of the graduating class, who saw the near-end of their formal connection with the School, and the keen enjoyment of the many visitors made the scenes one long to be remembered. The following menu was served:

	Canteloupe
	Baked Virginia Ham
	Browned Potatoes, Baked Tomatoes
	Half of Spring Chicken
	Lemon Sherbet
Olives		Martinos
Nut Bread		Rolls
	Bread and Butter Sandwiches
	Salted Nuts
	Fruit Salad with Whipped Cream
	Nineteen-Sixteen Ice Cream
	Red Raspberries
Cut Cake		Small Cakes
	Maroon and White Candy
	Coffee

A martial spirit was in evidence during the entire evening; the Normal Conservatory Orchestra rendered a number of patriotic airs from popular operas, and the toasts all breathed the war spirit. Instead of toasts, this part of the program was designated as the Alumni Campfire and the motto arranged for the occasion was "Arma Virumque Cano de bello Normalo." The following shots were fired:

The Long Roll.....	Dr. Charles E. Rink, 1896
The Strategy Board.....	Thomas Sutton, Toastmaster
The Sailor Class.....	John M. Urey, 1891

The Boys of the Old Brigade.....	Tillman K. Saylor, 1896
Ten Years' Battles.....	Berlin Empfield, 1906
Conquests of a Decade.....	Dr. James E. Ament, 1906-16
The New Recruits.....	Mary Cecelia Griffith, 1916
Stop Firing.....	Jane E. Leonard

Exit March

Following the banquet, dancing was general until two o'clock, to music furnished by St. Clair's Orchestra, of Greensburg.
